

Tuesdays, September 29-October 27, 2026, Daemen University, Amherst, NY

The Mini-Veterinary program is where people, pets, and science come together. Learn about the causes and treatments of the conditions that affect pets, as well as some of the latest advances in veterinary medicine.

SEPTEMBER 29

Laboratory Animal Medicine

Introduction on Animals in the Laboratories

with Dr. Sandra Sexton DVM, DACLAM

Animal Sheltering

Myths and Misconceptions

with Erie County SPCA

OCTOBER 6

The Immune system: Protector, Saboteur, and Everything in Between Defender against infection, this intricate network can both protect and inadvertently harm the body.

with Dr. William Brown DVM

Triage at the ER

Why did they get called in first?
Which case would you take first when seconds count?

with Dr. Sarah Schlee DVM

OCTOBER 13

Interactive Veterinary Mythbusters

An interactive presentation on all things

Veterinary Medicine
with Dr. Amanda Donovan DVM

More Than a Test Result

The Truth About Feline Retroviruses and FIP
with Dr. Allison Keen DVM

OCTOBER 20

Two Behavior Peas in a Pod: part I

The medication to the modification.
with Dr. Rebecca Gerevics DVM, FFCEP-V

Two Behavior Peas in a Pod: part II

The modification to the medication.
with Jessica Fritschi LVT, CDBC, CNWI, CPDT-KA

OCTOBER 27

The Primate Patient

Exploring the complex: monkeys, apes, and prosimians.
with Dr. Kurt Volle DVM

Lumps and Bumps

Sorting out bad and benign.
with Dr. Jennifer Stachnik

Series registration: $70/person

Students/Seniors: $50/person

Individual dates: $25

TO REGISTER: scan this QR Code or visit Zeffy.com/ticketing/minivet-school

Your veterinarian.
Your other family doctor.

HOST

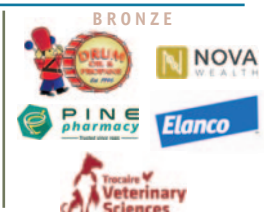

A PORTION OF PROCEEDS BENEFIT

SPEAKER SPONSORS

SPONSORS

PRINTING SPONSOR CAMP BOWWOW dog daycare & boarding