

Tuesdays, September 30-October 28, 2025,
Daemen University, Amherst, NY

The Mini-Veterinary program is where people, pets and science come together. Learn about the causes and treatments of the conditions that affect your pets, as well as some of the latest advances in veterinary medicine.

SEPTEMBER 30

Let's Get to the Point!

A Discussion about Chinese Acupuncture, Massage, and Food Therapy with Jennifer Garofalo DVM

Dental Care for Dogs and Cats

Diagnosing, Treating, and Managing Dental Care in Dogs and Cats with Jennifer Stachnik DVM

OCTOBER 7

Not Your Average Vet Visit

A Look into Exotic Animal Medicine with Jeff Hess DVM

Purr-fect Health

Common Cat Ailments & Feline Viruses with Allison Kean DVM

OCTOBER 14

How Do They Survive?

The Wide World of Adversaries our Pets Face with William Brown DVM

Saving Your Pet with CPR

Life saving Techniques with Sarah Schlee DVM

OCTOBER 21

Wildlife 101 and Messenger Woods

Rehabilitating injured Wildlife and the Education Program with Messenger Woods with Marianne Hites DVM

Sniffing Out the Truth

Genetic Testing in Dogs Explained with Kimberly Hitt DVM

OCTOBER 28

Bite Prevention

Safety and Understanding with Amanda Collins LVT, CPDT-KA, VSA-CDT, FFCP

Zoo Life Conservation

Role a Zoo Plays with Kurt Volle DVM

Series registration: $70/person

Students/Seniors: $50/person

Individual dates: $25

TO REGISTER: scan this QR Code or visit Zeffy.com/ticketing/minivet-school

Your veterinarian.
Your other family doctor.

HOST

DAEMEN
UNIVERSITY

A PORTION OF PROCEEDS BENEFIT

SPEAKER SPONSORS

SPONSORS

GOLD

SILVER

BRONZE

